BOLSHEVIKI TRIUMPHANT

Almost complete triumph comes to the Bolshevik regime with the flight of General Denekine to the protection of the British fleet at Constantinople. The collapse of the armed opposition led by Denekine leaves the Bolsheviki still opposed in the field only by General Wrangel who is in control of the Crimea but will soon have to try conclusions with heavy forces sent against him. Yudenitch, who attempted an advance upon Petrograd from thenorth east, is now without an army. There is said to be no longer any doubt of Kolchak's death and the dispersion of his Siberian forces. Denekine has been forced into flight, and probably it is only a question of time before Wrangel will suffer the fate of the others through the employment of the same Bolsevik tactics.

The Bolseviki are less successful with thesword than with propaganda causing disintegration in the ranks of their enemies. As was the case with Kolchak's forces, Denekine's melted away from him, three regiments deserting him in a single instance at a critical time. Whispering Bolshevik agents who promised everything caused the demoralization of both these armies, and it is too much to expect thatWrangel's will escape the same fate. Having gained the ear of the credulous Russian masses in the first place, having then repudiated their own policies in order to strengthen their grip, and having now conscripted the labor of the people under military regulations, it looks as if Lenine and Trotzky will be able to rule "free" Russia with a rod of iron for years to come.

HOOVER'S FIRST SPONSOR

The New York World, the first promoter of the Hoover "boom," has been placed in an awkard position by the former food administrator's announcement that he is a Republican and would not accept the Democratic party's nomination if offered him. In its editorial launching the Hoover boom the World declared its readiness to support its favorite as a Democrat, as a leader of a third party, and even as a Republican. But the World evidently believed that Hoover would accept a Democratic nomination, basing the expectation on the fact that in 1918 he urged the election of a Democratic Congress so that a war administration could continue readily to function. Though disappointed, the World still professes its admiration for Mr. Hoover as "a great administrator,a champion of right, justice and liberty, as an ardent believer in organized peace, as a statesman who understands the complicated problems that have come out of the war and who has the ability and courage to meet them." The real truth appears to be that the New York World (Democrat) having miscalculated and now being deeply disappointed is greatly troubled to know just what to do.

FIGHTING THE PROFITEERS.

Organized attack upon the high prices seems invaribly to have the opposite of the desired effect. All that the protest against the high cost of clothing instituted by the Overalls Club of Birmingham, Ala., seems to have accomplished is a 300 per cent advance in the price of overalls. Similar results followed the recommendation of the Department of Justice that everybody eat chuck meat for a week. The public has been advised repeatedly to beat the profiteers by buying sparingly or not at all. There is point in this plan, provided it be adopted individually and there is no collective rush for any single substitute article of comparatively moderate price. But of course such advice should not be taken too literally. The story comes of one man who thought he was fighting the profiteers by the purchase of thrift according to the formula issued from a high government source, but instead of now claiming his success, he has been summoned to the Court of Special Sessions in New York and convicted on complaint of an organization known as the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children.

LONG LIVE THE KING

Senator Hitchcock still believes that Wilsonism is synonymous with Democracy. He says he permitted his name to be used in Nebraska as a Presidential candidate to offset the Bryan movement. If the State is to be present a candidate to the Democratic national convention, Mr. Hitchcock thinks "he ought to be a man who is at least in harmony with the present attitude of the Democratic party and not one who is attempting to displace President Wilson as leader of that party." The Senator says that he had hoped Mr. Bryan would formally announce his candidacy when he put his own hat in the ring, but the challenge was refused. Mr. Bryan istoo skillful a politician to be smoked out by any such crude subterfuge as that contrived by Senator Hitchcock. He prefers to go to San Francisco with his intentions more or less of a mystery, ready to throw the weight of his influence where it can best disable the Wilson forces.

The public can do much toward the restoration of normal conditions by purchasing sparingly, but the exercise of common sense is needful. The effort should be individual and lacking in noise. Nothing is more manifest than that the profiteers, promptly apprised of all organized "stunts" at once employ keen wits to meet and even make money out of them.

"Shoe dealers dismayed at the unwillingness of customers to buy the highest-priced shoes." A profiteer's imagination, limited to his own schemes and gains, seems unable to conceive of a customer's dismay.

Kansas farmers are fighting the high cost of living by building sod houses. This may serve until the profiteers start on their trail the women of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children.

If our Government can conscript men to fight a war what is to prvent it from conscripting men to operate railroad trains and stop a calamitous industrial tie-up?

Senator Owen's book on "Seven Years of Democracy" will recall to the minds of deserving Democrats the dream of seven fat oxen—the seven years of plenty.

Prohibition's cut into the Government's revennes makes mere idle talk of propositions to repeal excess profits or other taxes.

FINED FOR KEEPING CHILDREN FROM SCHOOL

Several residents of Fallowfield township were arrested a few days ago and taken before Alderman McAlister of Monongahela, charged with keeping their children out of school, in violation of the state laws. The defense brought evidence to show that the children were compelled during school hours to go out on the railroad tracks and pick up coal to provide heat for the school building. All of the defendants were fined $2 and costs by the Alderman.

When flocks of wild ducks and geese have to go long distances they form a triangle to cleave the air more easily, and the most courageous bird takes position at the forward angle. As this is a very fatiguing post, another bird ere long takes the place of the exhausted leader.

Wonderful Collection of China.

A famous English firm of china manufacturers possesses samples of all the various kinds of china they have manufactured for nearly 150 years past, including samples of dinner services made for Lord Nelson and other celebrities of bygone days. —Brooklyn Eagle.

Power in Nobility.

Be noble, and it is well with you. The storms of life will not frighten you. Safe and serene, you shall wander through the paths of night, and misfortune itself can only exalt the majesty of your soul.—From Rae's "Life of Beethoven."

One day the new physics instructor came into our assembly room and said: "All those who expect to take any physics this year may come with me." Then he wondered why we laughed.—Boys' Life.

Only Requires Will Power.

Any man can learn to do anything that any other man has done if he will apply himself to the doing of it.—Charles M. Schwab.

Pertinent Inquiry.

Whereto serveth learning, if understanding be not joyned to it?—Montaigne.

Ira Nickeson, Jr., who was operated on for appendicitis at the local hospital on Tuesday last, was brought home Sunday. He is getting along nicely toward recovery.

Poet's Lofty Position.

Among the British men of prominence probably the one who most frequently refused money was Robert Browning, the poet. During the last twenty-five years of his life editors offered large sums for a short poem from his pen. But Browning said "No." He told his friends when they pointed out the unwisdom of this course that he was determined not to thrust his poems down the throats of people; that if they wanted to read him they could buy his books.

Phonograph-Alarm Clock.

The daily torture of the toiler's aural nerve by a strident alarm clock can be avoided in several ways. He may sleep all morning, or he may buy a gentle awakener now on the market. This new alarm clock rings no bell at the rising hour; instead, it starts a phonograph! Think of the delight of being awakened by the strains of "I Don't Care if You Never Come Back," or "Everybody Wants the Key to My Cellar."—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

Writes to Beethoven.

A letter addressed to the composer Beethoven was received in Vienna the other day from a woman in the provinces. She wrote she had recently heard some of his music and was anxious to place her daughter under his tuition. The postal authorities delivered the letter at the house in which Beethoven lived and where he died 92 years ago. The concierge said no such man resided there, so the postman sent it to the dead letter office.

Origin of the Word Canada.

The word Canada is derived from the Huron-Iroquois Indian word, "Kanata," meaning a collection of huts. In Jacques Cartier's time the territory on the north side of the St. Lawrence river, from Hochelaga, now a suburb of Montreal to the gulf, was apparently divided into three districts—Hochelaga, Canada and the Saguenay. It is here for the first time we meet the name now borne by the Dominion.

Old-Time Court Costume.

A court lady in the time of Queen Elizabeth wore a low dress with a long stomacher, an immense ruffle around her neck, a small hat, crinoline, a large fan of ostrich feathers with a mirror attached, highly scented gloves, and frequently a velvet mask. Her feet were shod with pumps of scented Spanish leather, her hair was dyed red in imitation of the royal locks, and her face was painted and rouged.

Surroundings Counted.

William had brought a little playmate home from school. After he left, William's mother thought to improve the chance and remarked: "He was a very polite little boy. I think he was more of a gentleman than you are sometimes." "Of course he was polite." was the answer. "He was in a strange house. I am polite, too, when I am away from home."

Courtesy Always Pays.

A man may fight fiercely to hold his own in business; but he does not need to fight to get ahead of someone in the elevator, or up the car steps, or at the post office window. And no matter how strong competition is, business and personal courtesy make it easier and pleasanter for everybody.—William H. Hamby.

Never Alone.

The man who lives under an habitual sense of the divine presence keeps up a perpetual cheerfulness of temper, and enjoys every moment the satisfaction of thinking himself in company with his dearest and best of friends. The time never lies heavy upon him: it is impossible for him to be alone.—Joseph Addison.

Rabbit Dinner.

While touring in northern Wisconsin one night two big rabbits ran into the road in front of my machine. They were blinded by the bright light from my headlights, and it was an easy matter to get out and catch them both. I had a good dinner the next day.—Exchange.

A boy of eight was dining with his father at a hotel where the manners of the guests were not remarkable for their elegance. Soon after they had seated themselves at the table, the youngster piped up with, "Daddy, why do all the men say 'whoop' to their soup?"

Fly's Frugality.

"The philosopher who told us to 'go to the ant' for our lesson in frugality, should have said, 'Go to the fly.'" "But the fly is not a frugal insect." "Yes, it is. Why, they simply swarm into the cheap eating houses."—Wichita Eagle.

To Repair Tortoiseshell.

A cement to repair tortoiseshell articles may be made from the following: Mastic, 30 parts; shellac, 90 parts; turpentine, 6 parts; spirit of wine, 90 per cent, 350 parts.

Cats and Dogs at Peace.

There is one place near Philadelphia where cats and dogs dwell together in peace. It is a cemetery devoted to pets. It is at Francisville, and contains many handsome tombstones.

INDIVIDUALITY

In buying for our ready to wear department we exercise the same care and caution that the average customer does in selecting a suit, coat, dress, skirt or whatever it may be to best suit our trade. We buy garments singly, for their individuality, quality, style and appearance and not in "bunches"; making every garment we have one of its kind and not a representative of a "Bundle of Clothes".

CLUB PREPARES FOR THE OPENING

Splendid progress is being made with the work of putting the Monongahela Valley Country Club in shape for formal opening in July. The golf course has been rolled and planted and already a nice growth of young grass has made its appearance. The work on the course is in charge of J. B. Sloan, who has been engaged as the club professional.

The Donora Lumber company is pushing the remodeling of the club house and has made wonderful progress. The work isbeing done under the personal direction of Chas. Potter one of the enthusiastic supporters of the club. Mr. Potter has given assurance that the club house will be complete in all of its details by the opening day.

CITY MILK PRICES REMAIN UNCHANGED

The Pittsburg and Ohio milk producers and dealers at a conference at Pittsburg on Saturday, agreed as to the prices of milk for the month of May. Prices to farmers were reduced slightly, but the consumers will continue to pay nine cents a pint and 15 cents a quart delivered.

Mrs. M. Lauderback and granddaughter Rita spent Sunday at the West Penn hospital in Pittsburg where they visited the former's son Howard who is a patient at that institution.

The most dreaded enemies of modern railroad strikers are motor trucks and good roads.

Sure Relief

St. Rita.

St. Rita was canonized in 1900. She is called the saint of the impossible, and is generally pictured holding a bunch of roses. When she was dying, it was in the winter and cold and she asked one of the nuns at her bedside to go to the garden to pick her a rose. Those about her bed thought that her mind was wandering but one of them, as a matter of form, went to the garden, and, behold, on one of the bushes was a beautiful rose.

This Hustling Age.

Of course we are all the creatures of our age. The luxuries of yesterday become the needs of today. If we were suddenly transported into the days of our grandparents, we would find the manner of life unbearable. They traveled by stage or on foot, and arrived on time. Today the fastest express trains scarcely meet our needs, and we are continually seeking for faster means of transportation and communication.

SUGAR IS HITTING A NEW HIGH LEVEL

Sugar sold in Pittsburg at many stores at 30 cents a pound last Saturday. This is the highest price paid for this commodity in 50 years. Many of the larger wholesale houses are not handling sugar at this price. but New York speculators are sending the product to towns in many parts of the country and reaping a harvest. Wholesale men say they have plenty of sugar on the way w hich they can sell at 18 3-4 cents. which would allow retailers to sell at 21 and 22 cents, but it cannot get through. The higher priced sugar, however, manages to get to market without trouble.

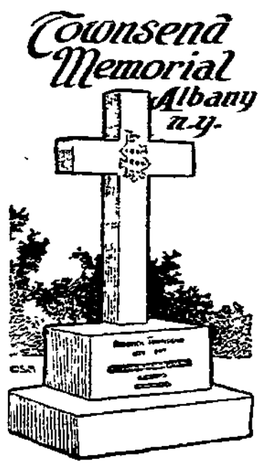
"QUALITY AND SUPERIOR SERVICE"—OUR MOTTO



ALL HAVE THEIR UMBRELLAS

Rainy Days by No Means Times of Terror for the Dwellers in Old Nippon.

A rainy day in Japan! Mountains half disappearing in wraiths of mist like the landscapes in old kakemono scrolls; gray tiled roofs transformed to glossy black by slanting sheets of rain; coolies in bristling straw raincoats, and everywhere great oiled paper umbrellas. Little Japanese women trip along daintily on their wooden clogs, oblivious to the muddy rivers under foot, totally eclipsed under their red, blue, green, yellow or black umbrellas. Shop apprentices and errand boys hurry along with umbrellas decorated with great black characters indicating the name of the firm or their trade. Out in Asakusa, Tokyo's popular quarter, huge red umbrellas protect the old women who sell beans to feed the doves that dwell in the eaves of the Temple of the Morning Grasses. At the entrance to every house a whole row of open umbrellas are drying. No two paper umbrellas are alike in Japan, perhaps because they are all made by hand—bamboo ribs, rattan handles, and the patterns formed by different layers of colored papers. The umbrella, writes Elsie F. Weil in Asia Magazine is as necessary to the Japanese actor or dancer as his fan. In the old prints the umbrella appears constantly as a harmonious part of the design. The geisha have umbrellas appropriate for wisteria season and cherry viewing, for winter and summer. An umbrella may even be the theme of poetry, as it was for the Japanese poet who sang: "In the spring rain an umbrella passes by on which petals are softly falling, falling." Yet the Japanese have been able to find something picturesque in our wire-framed umbrellas of uniform black; they call them "bat wings."

NOT TROUBLED BY JEALOUSY

Social and Domestic Customs Among the Eskimos Are Simple and Easily Arranged.

An American missionary is the authority for the following description of social and domestic customs that prevail in a certain part of the arctic regions: If a woman is childless, she often asks her husband to select another wife, so that the home may be blessed with children. She has no jealousy toward her rival, for her husband generally treats both with equal respect. The system of polygamy works both ways, for some Eskimos adhere to the single standard. In a tribe where there are more men than women, a woman may often be allowed a second husband, provided she has the approval of her first husband, and her love for some unmarried man does not necessarily lessen her regard for her husband, who may be old or weak, and hence a poor provider. A younger man may prove a real asset to the family. Even if it is a case of simple infatuation, no deception is practiced. The Eskimo woman reveals her feelings to her husband, who, if the lover is worthy, rarely refuses his consent for his wife to go away with this rival for a certain length of time. If the man happens to have a wife of his own, the abandoned husband will often propose to his wife that she arrange matters with the wife of her lover, so there will be a mutual exchange of spouses for a time.

Peculiar Nile Fish.

Near the African continent sea fisheries are mainly under direct or indirect European influence, the natives attaching more importance to the rivers and lakes. In the Nile, fishing is carried on almost as it was in the days of the Pharaohs, by lines and dipnets, the latter worked from the bank, and shaped something like a long-handled shrimp push net, or by groping in the mud as the waters recede after the flood.

A very popular fish that is taken in the latter way is the bichir, which is about 18 inches long, and is covered with hard, bony scales. In the same manner the Arabs of the upper Nile catch what they call the "thunder fish," which averages a foot in length, and, like that of the Calabar, is endowed with a considerable power of developing electricity. A large kind of barbel named the binny, also found in the mud, is greatly prized by the Nile dwellers, though quite tasteless to other palates.

So marked is the tendency of many fur-bearing animals to wholesale destruction of life that the work of the trappers who catch them and kill them for their pelts doubtless saves a far greater number of animals than it slays. One marten is likely to kill hundreds of harmless creatures in a single year.

If a multitude of birds and small beasts of the forests and the fields could have their will they would unquestionably urge the trappers to greater exertions. They would wish the present demand for furs stimulated to even more imperative eagerness to wear the skins of ferocious little killers. And big ones, too, for leopards and civet cats have their place in the fur trade.—Exchange.

Unreasonable.

"Was the operation successful?"

"It was brilliantly so in the facts it demonstrated. Only one person did not seem to be pleased with the results."

"Who was that?"

"The patient's widow."

WEAR RATTLES ON ANKLES

Girls of Mozambique Don Them to Aid in Keeping Time in Their Peculiar Dances.

Consider a country as big as the Atlantic states from Florida to New York, with the capital near the southern boundary, having a population of more than 200,000 inhabitants, of whom only about 1 per cent are white, and you have Mozambique, a Portuguese colony in Africa to the south of what was German East Africa, says a bulletin of the National Geographic society.

Mozambique is one of the oldest of all European possessions, and one of the richest in agricultural possibilities, but is one of the least known countries in the world. There are five towns and a small, up-to-date capital city, with a number of military posts and outposts. There are no deserts, salt sinks, swamps or mountainous wastes. The colony is altogether inhabited by about twenty tribes.

Among the curious customs of the land is the wearing of rattles by the girls on their ankles at dances. Hollow spheres are made of palm leaf or grass and are partially filled with large seeds or pebbles. The noise of these ankle rattles is supposed to assist in keeping time in the dance. Similar ornaments are frequently worn by the boys.

The popular music used at a batuque or ball is that of the marimba, or huge xylophone, which gives out a blood-freezing death chant during the "expression" dances of both men and women.

PEPPER TREE OF GREAT SIZE

Also Is of Quick Growth and Its Drooping Branches Are Particularly Ornamental.

As the elm or maple tree is to the New England village, so is the pepper tree (Schinus molle) to southern California cities and towns. For beauty of shape and color, for grace and for shade it is a tree almost unique. Being of quick growth, the pepper tree soon attains a large, luxuriant size and the great drooping branches form cool archways which protect passers-by from the too vigorous rays of the summer sun.

The delicate feather leaves droop and sway like those of the weeping willow. Silvery green, they glisten in the yellow sunlight, and when the panicles or clusters of tiny pale flowers festoon each slender branch, the whole tree is a shimmering, fairy bouquet. Soon the path under the archways is sprinkled with the tiny greenish flowers, and grapelike bunches of green berries hang from the trees.

Later as if touched by a mysterious fire, a vivid red flames from each branch of berries. The sunshine glances through the green feathered leaves upon the swinging bunches of red fruit, and the trees glow in color. The breezes lift and turn, shake and twist the myriad brilliant berries until soon a gorgeous scarlet mantle is spread for all to tread upon.—Christian Science Monitor.

Laughing in Your Sleeve.

Judging by the fact that we have this expression in French, German and Latin, there must be a lot of surreptitious laughter in the world. But a laugh's a laugh for all that, and it's good for the digestion. It's hard to see how anyone could have a laugh in any of the tight little sleeves that are de rigueur this season. There's hardly room to have an arm in them. But not so in the "bell" sleeve of last summer, which was a diminutive replica of the sleeves worn by the ancients, who, not concerned with changing fashions with the seasons, wore one style long enough to make it famous. With them, when anyone seemed to be screening his face behind the long flowing folds of his sleeve, there was always the suspicion that he was "laughing in his sleeve." And to this day laughing behind anyone's back, whether it be a fan or a hat that screens it, we call laughing in your sleeve.

Some folks are at their best in spragging the progress of others. They mistake the right to obstruct for evidence of the power to construct. Yet what child does not know the difference? Any fool can stand in the way of progress. And the more obstinate he is the better success will he have. But the fact that he dare oppose himself to the combined judgment of others does not prove him a man of strength. In fact, the chances are against his being in the right. There may be some pleasure in bucking the crowd, but it takes a hero or a fool to do it. All honor to the man who, knowing he is right, dares to face any odds in the exercise of his conviction. The world will hear from such in the buildings they leave as marks to fidelity and faith.—Grit.

Plant's Great Vitality.

There is a creeping moss found in Jamaica, in Barbados and other islands of the West Indies, which is called the "life tree," or, more properly, the "life-plant." Its powers of vitality are said to be beyond those of any other plant. It is believed to be indestructible by any means except immersion in boiling water or the application of a redhot iron. It may be cut up and divided in any manner and the smallest shreds will throw out roots grow and bud. The leaves of this extraordinary plant have been planted in a close, airtight, dark box, without moisture of any sort, and still they grew.

How much should I give to make this a better world?

A CERTAIN man in New York filled out his income tax report.

It showed an income so large that his tax was 53%. And his total gifts to church and charity for the year were $148.

Think of it—thousands spent for luxuries and pleasure for himself; and $148 to leave the world a little better than he found it!

Most of us do better than that; but not so very much better.

Our average daily gift for all church causes is —less than we spend for daily papers

—less than a local telephone call
—less than a third of the day's car fare
—less than 3 cents a day

No wonder that 80% of the ministers of America are paid less than $20 a week. No wonder that the church hospitals turn away thousands of sick people a year. No wonder that China has only one doctor for every 400,000 people. No wonder that every church board and charity society is forever meeting deficits, forever passing the hat.

It isn't because we are selfish; it isn't because we don't want to help. It's just because no one has ever put up a great big program to us, and asked us to think of the work of the church in a systematic businesslike way.

The Interchurch World Movement represents the united program of thirty denominations. They have surveyed their whole task, no business could have done it better.

They have budgeted their needs; no business could have a more scientific budget. They have united to prevent the possibility of waste and duplication. At least a million dollars will be saved by the fact that thirty individual campaigns are joined in one united effort.

And they come to the men or women who love America —to you— this week asking you to use them as the channel through which a certain definite part of your income can be be applied to make this a better world.

Only you can determine what part of your income that should be.

It's a good time right now to answer that question. We're passing through the world just once; how much better will the world be because you passed through?

Early Rubber Goods Imperfect.

Many were the troubles that early manufacturers of rubber goods experienced on account of the propensity of rubber to expand or contract with the heat. Daniel Webster, who was Mr. Goodyear's counsel in his patent litigation, humorously referred to a fine cloak of India rubber he once owned, stating that in cold weather it stood well by itself, and that he often set it out on the porch surmounted by his hat, many persons passing by mistaking it for the Sage of Marshfield himself.

New and Valuable Fertilizer.

"Nitrated peat" is the fertilizer produced by an Italian chemist from explosives containing ammonium nitrate. The explosive is placed in a measured amount of water, which dissolves out the nitrate, and after a short time is decanted as a saturated solution. This is mixed with peat powder and evaporated. The product contains about 43 per cent of ammonium nitrate, and has been shown to have fertilizing value nearly equal to that of sodium nitrate.

Your Big Left Foot.

Your left foot is larger than your right, in 99 cases out of 100. Science explains it in many ways; but we accept the easiest one, which is that we are a world of left-footed loungers. We lean against posts and door jambs and we do most of our leaning on our left foot; consequently, through the years it has grown to support the weight that the lazy foot doesn't. The next time you buy shoes, have your left foot measured first.

Hellenist.

Hellenes was one of the names of the inhabitants of ancient Greece and the word Hellenist meant one who affected Greek manners, especially a person of Jewish extraction who used the Greek language as his mother tongue, as did the Jews of Asia Minor, Greece, Syria and elsewhere. Many of the Jews scattered through the provinces of Asia Minor during the first century of the Christian era were Hellenists.

Dog Highly Prized in Alaska.

Nowhere in the world has the dog such unrestricted right of way as in Alaska. In winter, when more than 200,000 square miles of territory are sealed up in solid ice, dogs are almost the sole means of getting from place to place—in fact they seem necessary to life. The aristocrats of Arctic dog life are the mail teams in the service of the United States government.

Sound of Guns Traveled Far.

The greatest distance at which thunder can be heard is 14 to 18 miles, but it is not generally heard at a greater distance than nine miles. In the World war, the shell and bomb explosions, and the noise of the 15-inch guns of the Germans and the allies in France were heard in the eastern part of England, at distances up to 150 miles.

Robert's mother warned him to be careful not to offend the new boy who had a few days before moved into the flat in the rear, she saying: "He is a bad fighter." Robert replied: "I've tried him already. He has more bluff in him than the real stuff."

Literature.

True literature, like happiness, is ever a by product; it is the half-conscious expression of a man greatly engaged in some other undertaking; it is the song of one working.—David Grayson.

Canine Characteristic.

Once in a while you meet a man who is like a dog. He would rather stand still and shiver than to get out and hustle and keep warm.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Great Wine Cellar in Roumania.

The most capacious wine cellar in the world is owned by the Roumanian government. A railway tunnel 2,000 feet long could not be used for the purpose for which it was intended because of inferior construction, so it was leased to a wine dealer, who turned it into a storehouse for wines.

To Duplicate Baby.

One day while out walking I met little Grace, the daughter of a dressmaker, wheeling her little brother. After kissing the baby I asked Grace if I could keep it. "Oh, no," she answered, "but mother would lend you a paper pattern for one like him."—Illustrated News.

To Restore Faded Ink.

When the ink of old documents has faded and it is desired to restore it, this can be done by washing with any of the substances that blacken on mixing with iron—infusion of nutgalls, sodium-sulphide or acetic ferrocyanide of potassium, for instance.

The Hard Job.

A butternut is about the toughest proposition in the world till it is cracked. Then how sweet the meat is! Hard jobs come to us all. They are rough and tough, till we master them. The most beautiful things in the world after that!

Early Prejudice Retained.

The prejudice about being the first occupiers of a new house is perhaps a dim recollection of our prehistoric ancestors' attitude toward a newly discovered cave. There might be wild beasts already in occupation.

City Dwellers Flat Footed.

Defects of vision and flat feet were found more among city dwellers than those in the country by army physicians examining those entering the

WHAT we're aiming at, is that it takes both skill and precision to blend tobaccos the Chesterfield way.

Blending, by Chesterfield's method, brings out a new richness of flavor and mellowness of taste that other and less skillful blending methods fail to "discover."

Chesterfields sure do "satisfy"—and not in flavor alone, but in value, in quality, also in their extra wrapping* of moisture-proof, glassine paper that keeps the cigarettes in every package firm and fresh.

THE CHARLEROI MAIL

VOLUME XX—NO. 275 CHARLEROI, WASHINGTON COUNTY, PENNSYLVANIA. MONDAY, APRIL 26, 1920 TWO CENTS

COURT GRANTS LICENSES UNDER THE BROOKS LAW

Holds That State Law Is Not Repealed by New Amendment

ONE APPLICANT IS HELD UP

With the exception of two applicants, Judge James I. Brownson in an opinion handed down on Saturday in which Judge J. A. McIlvaine concurred, grants licenses to those applicants for retailers and wholesalers as b rewers, which were heard during last week.

The application of Andrew Chacko of C harleroi, is held under advisement, in order that it may be seen what sort of a restaurant he proposes to open here and where he desires the right to sell such malt and brewed liquors as come within the constitutional amendment.

Judge McIlvaine in addition to concurring with the decision of Judge Brownson in the disposition of the applications, hands down an opinion on the legal question raised on the court's jurisdiction in granting such licenses. The point before the court was: "Does the eighteenth amendment to the constitution of the United States repeal and wholly annul the act of assembly under which the applications are made. and is this court within jurisdiction to grant the license therein applied for?"

The court is of "the opinion that the remonstrances filed against these applications on the sole ground that the court has no jurisdiction to grant the license applied for, should be overruled and that the applications, where in due form and not otherwise opposed. should be granted."

In considering the relation of the Brooks law and the constitutional amendment the court rules that "The eighteenth amendment to the constitution of the United States does not repeal the Brooks law, either as a whole or in part. but it does in a way suspend the operation pro tanta;that is. the United States constitution is higher authority and. whenever the Brooks law is inconsistent with the requirements of the amendment. this court must follow the mandate of the constitution In other words. this court can use the Brooks law as an aid to enforce and sustain the eighteenth amendment to the constitution of the United States, but it cannot use the Brooks law so as to defeat the purpose of that amendment."

Charleroi applicants granted a license are: William H. Zellers, George L. West, George M. Fellows. Joseph Prise and Godfred A. Artz, all hotel men. and Anthony Murphy restaurant.

Officer Murphy arrested four foreigners between Twelfth and Thirteenth streets on McKean avenue last night about 8 o'clock. all of whom appeared to be under the influence of liquor. They were brought to the police station. where each left a forfeit for a hearing t his evening.

MANY VIOLENT DEATHS IN PAST FOUR MONTHS

Coroner William Greenlee has completed the report of the sudden ard v iolent deaths in Washington county from January y. 1920. the date upon which he entered office, to April 24, inclusive, which s hows a total of 110 deaths that he has investigated in that time. a little less than four months. These are divided as follows: Homicide 8, mine accidents 25, burns 15, railroad accidents 6. suicides 5 drowning 1, mill a ccidents 3, electricity 1, auto accidents 1, motorcycle 1, other causes 44.

ELECTRIC SERVICE WILL BE IMPROVED

Large central station electric companies in Western Pennsylvania Northern West Virginia and Ohio will soon be linked together so that there may be interchange of power in case of necessity, according to the statement of A. M. Lynn, president of the West Penn system in a paper read to members of the Pennsylvania Electrical Association in Pittsburg on Wednesday. Thus when one company as trouble. the others in the chain will come to its rescue by carrying part of the load. and reliability of electric service in this section of the country will be enhanced.

Mr. Lynn stated that Akron, Canton, Massillon, East Liverpool, Steubenville Ohio Wheeling W. Va., are connected through West Penn lines with those of the Duquesne Light company of Pittsburg. Within three years Mr. Lynn predicted. the Republic Railway and Light company of Youngstown and New Castle the Penn Public Service company of Johnstown and the Monongahela Valley Traction company will join. "I understand." he said, "that the Penn Central Light and Power company lines cross those of the Penn Public Service company. so it appears that within a reasonable time light and power companies from Central Pennsylvania to Central and Northern Ohio and Central West Virginia will be connected. Great advantages will thus acrue to these utilities and to the public."

The price of bottled soda water, commonly called pop, will raise to 7c a bottle retail.The bottlers of Brownsville. California, Charleroi. Monessen. Washington and Donora had a meeting and made a uniform price so it will give the retailer a good profit at 7c a bottle. Pop isselling at 10c a bottle in the surrounding community. Prices will go into effect at once.

SECOND ATTEMPT ON HIS OWN LIFE

Living in fear and terror of death of the electric chair as a penalty for his having beaten and tramped his wife to death a few weeks ago in a secluded woods in Peters township, Andrea Nichiporuk, who was one of the l eaders in the plot to break jail and tried to commit suicide by hanging, decided to take his own life by beating his brains out against the bars of his cell.

But Nichiporuk discovered that there is considerable pain involved by this manner and after bumping his head against the steel bars several times abandoned the idea. He is now nursing asore head as well as a sore throat from his effort to hang himself. Nichiporuk is said to have been shocked and burned severely in an accident while at work in a mine. Knowing the effects he broods continually over the fate which he thinks awaits him for the murder of his wife, to which he has confessed.

TRANSPORT FREIGHT BY AUTO TRUCKS

The railroad strike which tied up freight shipments in all parts of the country is having the effect of putting many big auto trucks in the long distance transportation business. Shippers are becoming disgusted with the service on the railroads because of the tie-up and are having their goods brought overland in big machines. which can haul approximately at least ten tons. Quite a number of these big trucks were observed on Sunday, loaded to capacity, and on their way to up-river points. In this way the supplies of many grocery firms a re being kept at normal proportions.

STAGED FIGHT IN P. O. CORRIDOR

An altercation took place in the corridor of the local postoffice Saturday evening about 7:00 o'clock between Harry Perry and a man named Saunders which for a time threatened to have a serious ending. The janitor of thebuilding locked the door when the fight started and phoned for the police. George Stablein. who was in the corridor at the time, endeavored to separate the men, and found it necessary to disarm Perry, who had pulled a gun and threatened to shoot Saun . rs. When the police arrived in the patrol both men were taken to the police station, where each left a $50 forfeit for their appearance before the Burgess for a hearing this evening. The trouble drew quite a crowd to the front of the postoffice building. but none of them could gain admittance. because of the quick action of the janitor in barring ingress to the corridor.

DAYLIGHT SAVING IS STILL CAUSING SOME CONFUSION

NO LABOR TICKET WILL BE PLACED IN COUNTY

No labor ticket will be placed in the political fight in the coming election in Washington county. This was decided on Sunday at a joint meeting of the members of the Washington a nd Charleroi Valley Central Labor Union. One reason for abandoning the labor political party idea at this time was that the sentiment of organized labor in this county had not been sounded.

Born—To Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Horvath, April 21—a daughter, Olive Jane.

BOY INJURED BY MOTORCYCLE

A boy named Sam Meinio. from Donlevy, was hit by a motorcycle, driven by August Zenabdli, on the Speers road Sunday afternoon about 3:20 o'clock. It appears that the Meinio boy ran in front of the machine and was s truck with considerable force. Zenabdli stopped his machine, picked up the boy and brought him to Dr. Hill. who dressed his wounds. Zenabdli then started to take theboy home, but he fainted while waiting for a car. He was taken into Henning's drug store and the amulance summoned. and the boy taken to the hospital. where he is resting very comfortably this morning. Zenabdli, who is from Monongahela, did all he could to assist the boy after he was struck by the motor.

PRISONER DEMANDS EXTRADITION PAPERS

John Temple. of Youngstown, Ohio, arrested on Friday last as an accomplice of George Dezee and others involved in the plot to effect a general release of several men from the Washington county ailj, has refused to return from Ohio without extradition papers. A telegram was received to that effect by District Attorney Erwin Cummins from County Detective Bert M. Laird, who went to Youngstown on Friday, on receipt of word that Temple was under arrest there. To bring Temple back now it will be necessary to prepare extradition papers. have them taken to Harrisburg and then to Columbus before Temple can be brought to Washington for trial.

Detectives Laird and Weiner have ascertained that the saws used in cutting the bars in five different cells were furnished by Temple. He is a friend of Dezee, a leader in the conspiracy. He had visited Dezee, and passed over the saws, it is believed, in a newspaper.

Observance of New Time Is Not General in This Section

LAKE ERIE FOLLOWS OLD TIME

More or less confusion still exists in Charleroi because of the change in time from the old standard to the daylight conservation plan. The Macbeth-Evans plant and the Pittsburg Plate Glass company still adhere to the old system. while the merchants and banks as well as the schools are are observing the new time. The Charleroi Lumber company and the local theatres are still observing the old method. but the street car lines as announced. on Saturday moved their running time up to conform to the new schedules.

The Pennsylvania railroad this morning began to run its early morning and evening trains according to the new system, while the trains during the other portion of the day will observe the old schedule. The Fairmont and the Uniontown trains also run on the old schedule. Of the 21 trains on the Pennsylvania during the 24 hours of the day. only seven were changed to conform with new conditions.

The adjoining towns of Donora, Monessen and Monongahela have adopted the new schedule, and will conform to the new hours for the summer months. However, the Pittsburg & Lake Erie railroad will not make any change in the running time of its trains, observing the old schedule. This causes some confusion on the east side, but there appears to be no way of helping conditions at present. The Page Steel and Wire company and the Tin Plate, both of Monessen announced on Saturday they would observe the new hours and the new schedule was put into effect this morning. It is hoped, however, that within a few days a more general observance of the new system may be manifested i n order to make conditions uniform.

WANTS MORE CARE IN C ROSSING BRIDGES

The Elizabeth Herald predicts that an accident will happen on the bridge crossing the Monongahela river at that place unless drivers of trucks observe more care and keep farther apart with their machines while crossing that structure. It was reported that one of the big beams in the bridge at Suterville was broken a few days ago when eight heavy trucks loaded with wire nails were crossing the structure very close together.

Aubrey Easton, who was seriously injured when struck by an automobile last Thursday evening at Seventh and Crest, and who is now in the local hospital, is reported as showing some signs of improvement. He regains consciousness at intervals, when he is able to recognize his parents. However, he is not yet out of danger.
